HOST KIT

Kayaks for Your Guests, Without Owning Any

A dock is the headline of a Cape Coral waterfront listing. A kayak is what turns that dock into something to do. This kit lets you offer kayaks by delivery, with copy to paste into your listing and a page to print for your guest book.

cost to the host. Guests book and pay us directly.

Free
delivery and pickup in Cape Coral and most of Fort Myers.

$45
a day for a single kayak, or $120 for 3 to 7 days.

Included
paddles, life vests and a safety whistle.

How delivery works at your property

1. Guest books
They call or text us with dates, the kayak they want and your address.

2. We check access
We ask about the dock or seawall and overnight storage before we confirm.

3. We deliver
Kayaks and gear arrive at your dock. Timing is confirmed with the guest by text.

4. We pick up
We collect everything at the end. You do not clean, store or replace anything.

Owning kayaks vs pointing guests to delivery

Factor	You own the kayaks	Delivery rental
Upfront cost	You buy kayaks, paddles and vests	None for the host
Who pays for use	You, or it is built into your rate	The guest, from $45 a day
Storage	Your dock, lawn or lanai	None between rentals
Cleaning and checks	Every turnover	Handled by us
Theft and damage	Yours to replace	Not yours to replace
Life vests, child sizes	Yours to stock and replace	Included with the rental
Availability	On the dock right away	Guest books ahead. Last minute is sometimes possible by text.
Choice of boats	What you bought	Single, tandem, fishing and pedal kayaks

The honest trade-off: guests have to book, and they pay for it. A hybrid works too. Keep one tandem for casual use and send larger groups, anglers and pedal kayak fans to delivery.

Two things to leave out of your listing

- A delivery time. We confirm timing with each guest by text, so avoid promising a specific hour.
- "Kayaks included." Guests book and pay us directly. "Kayaks available by delivery" is accurate.

Dock items that make paddling safer

- [ ] A sturdy ladder or step that reaches the water. Check it for rust and loose bolts.
- [ ] Cleats in good condition so guests can tie off the bow.
- [ ] Lighting for evening returns. Test bulbs between stays.
- [ ] Non-slip surfaces. Slick algae and wet wood are the real hazard.
- [ ] A life ring or throwable in a visible spot.
- [ ] Clear rules posted: hours, no jumping, a note on depth.
- [ ] A marked entry point. On a seawall, show guests the easy way in.

General guidance, not an inspection. Your insurer or a local professional can tell you what your property needs.

Questions for your insurer

Not legal or insurance advice. Take these to your agent and an attorney.

- Does my policy cover guest injuries on my dock and in the water behind my property?
- Does it cover watercraft I provide, such as kayaks?
- What about equipment used away from the property?
- What safety measures do you require or recommend for docks and seawalls?
- Does Airbnb or VRBO coverage replace my own policy?
- Is a signed waiver worth using, and what should it say?

Know your canal before you write the listing

Guests paddle very differently on a Gulf access canal than on a freshwater canal, so say which one you have. Our Cape Coral canals guide explains the difference. Unusual access, a tall seawall or no ladder? Text us a photo at (605) 760-4448 and we will tell you straight whether it works. Delivery is free in Cape Coral and to most Fort Myers addresses. Sanibel, Captiva and Fort Myers Beach carry a $60 fee.
